

To members of the public,

Recently at Joseph Lane Middle School, a school threat was found written on the wall in a bathroom stall. The threat was reported to the authorities and investigated by the Joseph Lane administrative team and local law enforcement.

As of today the school and authorities have no suspects, but the school district does take it seriously and is asking the public to be vigilant. Please notify Joseph Lane Middle School if you have any information regarding a written threat. Parents are asked to please remind their students that making a threat of this nature, even in jest, carries serious consequences.

We will continue to partner with law enforcement to keep all of our students safe. All of us at Jo Lane Middle School will continue to make student safety our top priority.

Respectfully,
Bill Bartlett, Principal
Gerry Washburn, Superintendent
